Travizory reinforces its expertise with more industry veterans

Bill Eggleston, Tom Marten and Jim Peters join the Travizory team

Neuchâtel, Switzerland 17 November 2020 – Travizory, a pioneer in the field of border security and health risk mitigation, announces the expansion of its management team with the appointment of three industry experts, Bill Eggleston, Tom Marten and Jim Peters.

James (Jim) Peters has worked in the Air Transport industry for 37 years, spending his first dozen years as a TPF Systems Programmer and later going on to create one of the first Internet Booking Engines. He has been the Chief Technology Officer for multiple Aviation Information Technology providers over the last 20 years. Jim's experience will boost Travizory's ability to massively scale up to provide governments and other organizations with the systems and tools needed to manage the identity and health status of their visitors. Jim has a bachelor's degree in Philosophy from the University of Notre Dame ('83) and is based in the Florida Keys, where he enjoys fishing in his free time.

In addition, Tom Marten joins Travizory. Tom Marten joins as Travizory's new Regional Managing Director. Tom will lead the growth of Travizory's border management business in key territories. Prior to Travizory, Tom served in senior positions in a number of companies specializing in security and border management, leading one to grow revenue from $10M to over $100 Million per year. He built industry leading teams within Electronic Travel Authorizations, API/PNR solutions, and biometrics. His team won strategic new business contracts in Europe, the Middle East, Africa, Asia and Latin America. Tom served for 10 years as a career diplomat with the US Department of State. He holds degrees from Georgetown University, George Mason University, and France's Ecole Nationale d'Administration.

Travizory can also boast Bill Eggleston as their Chief Legal Officer. Bill's career has seen him visit over 57 different countries, working to deliver deals to both airport authorities and governments alike. Traditionally a lawyer by trade, having passed the bar in both Common Law and Civil Law, Bill has held a variety of positions over the course of his career including Chief Legal Officer, Alliances and Acquisitions, Sales and purchasing. This provides him an excellent vantage point when it comes to brokering deals within the industry.

Renaud Irminger, Travizory's Co-founder and CEO says "I'm very excited to bring onboard former colleagues Jim, Tom and Bill. We already know how to work together and there are already contributing immensely. Their wealth of experience will be invaluable to Travizory allowing us to develop and push the boundaries of border security. With their expertise we will accelerate the delivery of our mission, providing safe and secure travel for everyone."
